Attorney General John Ashcroft
US Department of Justice, 950 Pennsylvania Avenue, NW
Washington, DC 20530-0001

Dear Mr. Ashcroft:

My name is DeArmond Canaday. I am a resident of Greenville, South Carolina. I am writing with regard to the settlement recently reached between the Justice Department and Microsoft.

The settlement, as I understand it, requires Microsoft to allow competition for such services as Internet access within its Windows operating systems. It is also my understanding that Microsoft has agreed to a pricing structure program that will help level the playing field among computer manufacturers. As you can see, Microsoft did not get off easy. I hope that you accept the settlement in its present form.

Thank you for giving me the opportunity to express my opinion on this subject.

Sincerely,

DeArmond Canaday
